Holiday dinner time

The team at New Seasons is ready to offer ideas to help make your holiday meal extra special

By SCOTT KEITH | Photography by JAIME VALDEZ

Thanksgiving is over and we switch our attention to Christmas. It's never too early to start planning the holiday dinner. New Seasons Market at Progress Ridge TownSquare has the food, staff and expertise to help you create a dinner that will leave your friends and family richly satisfied.

Store manager Michael Butterfield is getting his staff ready to assist customers.

"We'll have everything to offer, from pumpkin pies to Christmas trees, from turkeys to hams," Butterfield said. "Anything fresh, organic, you name it, we'll have it. And if there's something we don't have, tell us, we'll go out and get it."

Butterfield enjoys the energy that the Christmas season brings to New Seasons Market.

"This is my favorite time to work. It really is," Butterfield added. "It's a holiday about family. Food is a big part of that – It's the one time of the year even people who don't cook like to come to the store."

The meat department is a big part of New Seasons Market. You can find standing rib roasts, pork tenderloins, pork loin roasts, turkeys, geese, duck, lamb racks and lamb legs. The standing rib roast is a more popular choice, according to meat and seafood manager Nathan Ball.

Seafood choices include lobster tails, fresh oysters and stuffed salmon.

"We take a whole, clean

Freshness is stressed at New Seasons Market.

salmon, then take out the rib cage and put a filling in there," Ball said, adding that an artichoke stuffing goes well with coho salmon (a fish New Seasons typically uses).

Breads and bakery items are a must for the holiday meal. Ask them about French baguettes, ciabatta or Parker House rolls.

Bakery Manager Chris Westerfield said stollen is a bread that's available in December. "It's definitely a sweet bread," Westerfield said, noting the bread is covered with powdered sugar and contains dried fruit, candied fruit and raisins.

Another popular Christmas choice is pane dolce, a brown bread with dried cranberries and orange peel.

"On the pastry side, we have apple pies, marionberry pies, pumpkin pies, and pecan pies," Westerfield said. "Pumpkin pies remain popular throughout the holidays."

The produce department provides wonderful fruit and vegetable choices, including cranberries, chestnuts, satsuma mandarins and an impressive selection of wild mushrooms. Fruit and veggie platters are also offered.

Freshness is stressed at New Seasons Market. Christi Reed, New Seasons Market nutritionist, said, "The fresher your food is, the more nutritious it is, especially when we are talking about produce."

When it comes to fresh produce, Andrew Black, New Season's produce manager, can answer all your questions.

The meat department prepares seasoned meat at Progress Ridge New Seasons Market.

Love dessert? New Seasons offers fresh pumpkin pie made by their bakery.

etcetera

- Meat and seafood manager Nathan Ball suggests you visit the Solutions Counter, at the front of the store, if you have questions about how New Seasons Market can help you prepare your Christmas dinner. He said they have access to both orders for meat and deli. You'll also find a menu to assist you.
- Find an extensive beer and wine selection at New Seasons Market. They'll be happy to show you the best paring for your holiday meal.

■ Local and international cheese selections available. Ask about pairings for your holiday table.

Hungry? We have the answer.

Holiday dining abounds at Progress Ridge Townsquare

By SCOTT KEITH | Photography by JAIME VALDEZ

A great idea this holiday season is to schedule an all-day visit to Progress Ridge TownSquare. Not only can you select the perfect holiday gift from a variety of your favorite merchants, but you can drop by one of the many restaurants and eateries at the shopping center. To get you in the holiday mood, several are offering special holiday foods and drinks. The following is a sampling of food and drink establishments.

VINOTOPIA – After spending a day of shopping, consider a movie at Cinetopia and a dinner at Vinotopia. Christmas is a fun time of year at Vinotopia. Outside the restaurant, in the lobby, is a Christmas tree made of wine bottles. There will be a Christmas Day menu (menu items not available at press time) and musical entertainment. Ask them about reservations. Visit cinetopia.com.

LA PROVENCE – La Provence is one of the most talked-about restaurants in Beaverton. And it recently opened at Progress Ridge TownSquare. This French-inspired eatery will offer a variety of holiday treats. From their bakery, buy a yule log, Santa Claus bread, or try La Provence's new line of chocolates. For more information, visit provencepdx.com.

AVA ROASTERIA – As you are Christmas shopping at Progress Ridge, a coffee break will help you rest and gain a bit more steam. There are seasonal drinks at this popular establishment, which overlooks Progress Lake. Look for eggnog latte, gingerbread latte, peppermint mocha or hot chocolate (choose from dark, milk or white chocolate). Find them on the web at avarorasteria.com.

MENCHIE'S FROZEN YOGURT – Sure it's December and sure it's cold outside, but you can still enjoy a frozen yogurt at Progress Ridge TownSquare. As you are selecting gifts for your friends and loved ones, try a Cocoa-Minty Holiday Cookie yogurt. You'll find special holiday cups and spoons at Menchie's and try cream cheese icing or Hershey shell topping. Visit menchies.com.

BIG AL'S – Everybody likes a great family Christmas photo. A great photo location is Big Al's. When you drop by to bowl, play arcade games or dine in the Sports Bar and Grill, notice the impressive Christmas tree display in the main entry. Big Al's also plans on special winter cocktails for your holiday enjoyment. Visit them on the web at ilovebigals.com.

FRANGIPANI LAO & THAI CUISINE – For some great Lao and Thai food, try Frangipani Lao & Thai Cuisine. Tom Yum is a tasty soup featuring spicy lemon grass and galanta root. Specialty items include Thai Pepper Steak and Ginger Duck. Both dining and takeout are offered at this popular restaurant.

B.J. WILLY'S WOODFIRED PIZZA AND PUB – Christmas shopping can work up an appetite and there's plenty of food and fun at B.J. Willy's. Sicilian-style pizzas, gourmet burgers and pasta dishes are among the yummy choices found on B.J. Willy's extensive menu. Visit them at bjwillys.com.

NIKKI SUSHI & STEAK – Nikki Sushi & Steak, featuring authentic Japanese food, has a sushi bar and a full wine, beer and cocktail menu. A great way to top off your shopping day. Visit nikkisushisteak.com.
